Message from the East

Dear Brothers,

This was not the message I had originally plan to write. As a matter of fact, I wrestled with whether or not to write this message as I didn't want to appear preachy or have it come across as an editorial. Several weeks back, I saw an interview on television, by a rather well-known person, and they said something that kind of, struck me. When ask about what they thought of a certain person, they described them in the following way (and I am paraphrasing) "I think he is a good person, somewhat successful, I guess, not very wealthy". The phrase that stuck me was "somewhat successful, not very wealthy". Isn't it true though, that as a society, we tend to judge a person's success by their wealth and their accumulation of stuff (houses, cars, jewelry, etc.).

It is not what we are taught and believe as a Fraternity and as Freemasons. When preparing a candidate, we tell them that the Fraternity considers each of its members to be equal within the lodge. That it is a person's inner qualifications and not their external wealth and honors that qualify them to be a member of our Fraternity. Yet, don't we still find ourselves judging a person's success by their wealth and worldly honors. I know I still tend to do.

So, let's do a better job both in and out of the Fraternity. In these times when people hide behind social media to judge others, let us not forget the principals of our Fraternity, and extend them to all human beings.

See you in lodge.

Fraternally,

Daniel E. O'Brien
Worshipful Master

Notes from the Worshipful Masters

Our current Senior Deacon, Tom Beamer, who has decided to step out of the officer line for the upcoming year and not go into the Junior Warden's chair. His wife recently began a new job and it will probably result in her being transferred to Florida in the next year or so. Tom felt it unfair to the lodge to take on the responsibility of the Junior Warden's station not being able to fully commit to being Worshipful Master in three years as a result of their possible relocation. Thank you to Tom for his years of service to the lodge.

As you may know, Rick Young, our current Tyler, several years ago, after serving as both Junior Warden and Senior Warden, had to step out of the officer line, several weeks prior to being installed as Worshipful Master, due personal reasons. With Tom Beamer stepping out of the officer line, it was discussed with Rick to be Junior Warden next year. Larry Vernamonti, the current Senior Warden, approached Rick the other week and suggested that instead of taking the open Junior Warden's chair next year, that Rick take the position of Worshipful Master, with both Larry and John Quintana serving an additional year as Senior Warden and Junior Warden, respectively. Rick has agreed to do this, and provided he is elected, will serve as Worshipful Master next year. Good Luck Rick.

Congratulations to our newly raised Master Masons, David Carvin, Jr., Alex Richardson, Devin Keesler and Jay Keesler.
