Medford Lodge Family Bowling Event

Message from the East

Greetings Brethren,

Over the past few years, I have noticed a cyclical trend in Lodge, and I am sure I am not alone in this observation. When the new masonic year begins every brother is “gung-ho” and is ready to attend all masonic events. As the calendar year progresses, the numbers slowly dwindle until for the most part, only officers are attending functions and lodge events. It gets harder and harder year after year to retain interest within the brethren due to occupations, personal schedules, families, and other obligations.

Last year as Senior Warden I was responsible for conferring the Fellow Craft Degree on a class of candidates. I studied and labored for hours trying to make that degree perfect for them. Did it go perfectly? Absolutely not, but what made me cringe was the number of brethren who attended the degree that weren't in the officer line. A big part of the reason I joined freemasonry was for the comradery, the brethren, and the relationships we share. When I was raised, I remember the hoodwink being removed and I was surrounded by a sea of brothers which, frankly, was intimidating at first but I soon realized they were present showing their support. There is no better feeling than being surrounded by friends that care about your well-being and hearing the reverberations of “So mote it be” in a packed lodge room. Back to my Fellow Craft degree. When their hoodwinks were removed, I can only imagine the lackluster and deflating feeling they must have felt when the brethren could not even adequately encompass the new Fellowcrafts.

“During the progression through the degrees the candidate is the focus of attention. You were once the rough ashlar being made perfect by the working tools of the craft. Once raised in your mother lodge, it is up to you to make your lodge belong to you. Brotherhood is not a one-sided, halfhearted, one-way street”. If you choose to be a real part of your lodge you must make the effort to attend not only the big event nights but also the regular meetings and practices. Be present. One cannot blame the craft if you yourself are not trying. My challenge to everyone is to think and decide why you chose this brotherhood and how you can continue to be an active member in your Lodge and be of service. Masonry gives us the key, you must walk through the door!

Fraternally,
WM Rudy Hatala

Notes From The Worshipful Master

Notes from the Worshipful Master:

I would like to thank a few brothers for assisting in our February Sweetheart Dinner. Thank you, Brother Massey and Brother Druger, for assisting in making that night a great time for all of us and our significant others.

Continuing our monthly programs, this month we have our SGS RW Stebbins and his presentation on “Building your temple: Doing the work of a Fellowcraft”. This presentation was just created, and I was informed we have the pleasure of being the first lodge to enjoy it. If you are available, please be sure to attend and get the world premiere. I am sure it will be a great presentation.

This month we also are saying “See you later” not “goodbye” to a couple of our brothers. Brother Foster and Brother Whitney have accepted work opportunities in Florida and will be following our Junior Past Master. I just wanted to offer my congratulations and well wishes on this next chapter in their lives. Thank you, Brethren, for being active and involved members in our lodge. You will be missed, but we know you will prosper in your newest endeavors. You are and always will be a brother of Medford Lodge #178.

Lastly, as you all may have noticed, I am trying hard to involve families into our social events. I believe family is the key to happiness and success. I look forward to continuing this trend in the coming months. Keep your eyes open for such events.

Notes from the Senior Warden.

Brethren

Next year we will be celebrating the “semiquincentennial” of our nation, its 250th birthday. In March of 2025, we will be celebrating a semiquincentennial of a different sort, one that is important in the history of Freemasonry.

During the Revolutionary War, Prince Hall encouraged slaves and freed black men to serve in the American colonial military. His assumption would be that such an alliance would aid in attaining freedom for all members of his race in the new nation that would be formed. The Continental Army at first refused them, but reversed its decision after the British Army started guaranteeing freedom to those who fought on the side of the crown. Prince Hall served during the war, but did not receive the equality he anticipated when the war ended.

Hall was interested in Freemasonry because the Craft was founded on liberty and equality. Before the war, Hall and fourteen other free black men petitioned for admittance to St. John’s Lodge in Boston, but they were turned down. Undeterred, Hall and fifteen others sought and were initiated into Masonry by members of Lodge No. 441 of the Grand Lodge of Ireland on March 6, 1775. They were attached to the British forces stationed in Boston at the time. This year marks the 250th anniversary of that initiation.

Hall and other freedmen founded African Lodge No. 1, and Prince Hall was named as Grand Master.

After Hall died in December of 1807, the Brethren organized the African Grand Lodge, which declared independence from the United Grand Lodge of England and all other lodges in 1827. In 1847, they renamed Prince Hall Grand Lodge to honor their founder.

Notes From The Senior Warden

Notes from the Junior Warden.

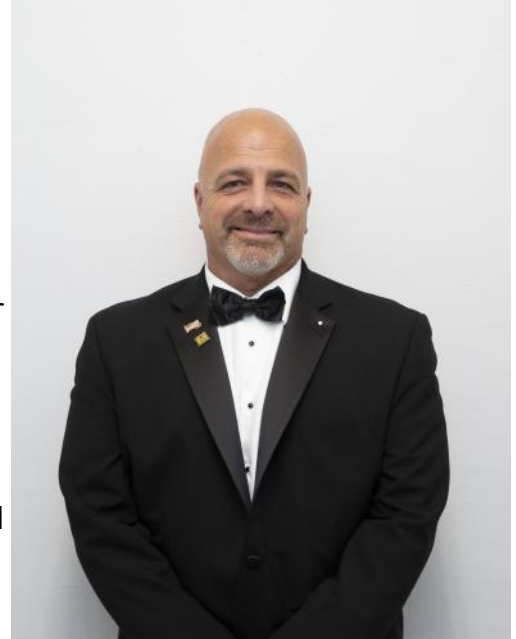

Brethren,

Greetings from the South! If you will remember from you Master Mason obligation, Masonic kindness extends to our Brother's family and property as well. This next example should be of particular interest to our Brothers of the Scottish Rite

(although they are of the Northern jurisdiction).

In times of war pillaging, plundering, and looting occurred (to many, this is an accepted right of war, however, something I always found distasteful). Does our Masonic courtesy extend to the property of a Brother? Let us see:

"A famous example concerns Confederate General Albert Pike's house (and impressive Masonic Library). Pike, who later would become arguably the most famous American Mason, had incited Union wrath by securing Indian allies for the Confederacy, and Union troops sought to wreak their revenge by burning his house in Little Rock to the ground. Apprised of the fact that the house and contents would be destroyed, a Union Officer, Col. Thomas Hart Benton Jr., of the 29th Iowa Infantry, who was also the serving Grand Master of Masons in Iowa at the time --- intervened and took the house as his headquarters. Benton's actions saved Pike's house and preserved for Masonry a pearl of great price. Pike's collection of books and manuscripts later became the library of the Supreme Council (Southern jurisdiction) of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite."¹

Most Worshipful Benton actions saved a fellow Mason's property and preserved priceless Masonic items that would have been lost forever. Masons looking out for Fellow Masons.

Medford Lodge #178 is continuing to collect toys for the Toys-For-Tots program throughout this year. It is important that we care for children in our community all year long and not just during the holiday season. Our goal is to fill our container multiple times which will help bring joy to children all year long.

The next time you are in a store, buy a toy and bring it, unwrapped, to the Lodge. Let's be the difference for a deserving child. Information on the program is available at <https://www.toysfortots.org>.
